

Residential land with parkland views

Between the beach and this residential lot is only parkland, providing lovely views to the north that can't be built out and which make it feel much larger than its 624m².

The shape is ideal to maximise the views and services are all available - with mains sewer connection to the rear of the block and underground power and town water in the street.

There's a scenic boardwalk track through the nearby conservation park to the beach where there's a great selection of cafes, restaurants, bars and shops as well as regular markets and watersports.

With land this close to the beach now a scarce commodity, this block won't last long!
